Mellon and Blair Reported Likely to Quit Posts

RESULT OF TREASURY FIGHT

Harding Petitioned to Oust Many Democrats

(By HERBERT W. WALKER)

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—A showdown in the long fight by Republican politicians to force the removal of Democratic appointees from treasury department offices seemed near today.

About 150 Republican members of congress have signed a petition which will be presented to President Harding today or tomorrow, demanding the ousting of the Democrats and filling their places by Republicans.

DECISION FORCED

The action of the Republican congressmen virtually forces Harding to make a decision whether he will support the policies of Elmer Dyer, vice assistant secretary of the treasury, with the announced purpose of removing Democrats for the good of the government service, or those of General Revenue Commissioner Blair, who prefers a large number of employees with more experience in government work.

Blair is understood to have the backing of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and the petition brings sharply to the fore the possibility of the resignations of Secretary Mellon and Commissioner Blair.

The petition claims that the large numbers of Democrats still in the treasury are hampering the efficiency of that department. It is charged that a Democratic ring exists in the treasury.

Accompanying the petition is a list of more than 100 Democratic office holders, whom the congressional Republicans want removed.

Heeding the list is Paul Gilbert, under-secretary of the treasury, who ranks next to Secretary Mellon. It was charged that he took the stump for James M. Cox in 1920.

SLAP AT MELLON

The petition takes a direct slap at Secretary Mellon by asserting that the private secretary, John Kiley, is an active Democratic politician and a close friend of Joseph Tumulty, former secretary of Woodrow Wilson.

Others listed are Roland Croxton, assistant under-secretary of the treasury, who is charged, distributed all the Democratic campaign literature in 1920; C. P. Smith, assistant internal revenue commissioner; and Carl Vesper, solicitor of the bureau, D. F. Slanker, private secretary to Blair, who was said to have been carried over from the administration of Daniel Roper, former commissioner.

E. F. Haeman, assistant to the revenue commissioner, was listed because his "political affiliations are unknown."

Many others are listed with one word characterization of "Democrat," while about a dozen are charged with being "presumably Democrats."

DEACONY CHARGED TO FARMER

Defiance-co Man Said to Have First Married in Lima

Charged with having a wife in Lima and another in Texas, Forrest Hanna, 40, Defiance, is held for bigamy.

According to reports from Defiance, Hanna was arraigned on a charge of bigamy before Mayor John C. Marlett and was held in the grand jury. Unable to furnish bond of $10,000, he was committed to the city jail.

Hanna was arrested on a farm near Defiance by officers who held warrants charging him with having married Pearl Johnson of Lima, Aug. 23, 1911, and Lorena Wilson of Texas, Nov. 28, 1912.

Both marriages are admitted, according to word from Defiance. Hanna is reported to have declared that his first, that with the Lima girl took place after she had threatened to kill him if he did not marry her. The second he is reported to have said, took place after he thought his first wife had divorced him.

Neither a Mrs. Forrest Hanna, nor a Miss Pearl Johnson, could be located in Lima, Friday.

Irish Treaty Is In Balance Today

BALLOT TO DECIDE PACT'S FATE

People of Southern Part Are Voting on Question

PROPERTY CLASSES LEAD

Members of Parliament Being Chosen by Electorate

DUBLIN (Associated Press)—

The voters of Southern Ireland went to the polls today to elect an Irish parliament as provided under the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Under the recent agreement between the factions favoring and opposing the treaty, a coalition panel of candidates was presented to the people, apportioning representation in the parliament at approximately the same ratio as shown in past tests of strength in the Dail Eireann.

A number of independents, however, have entered the field in an attempt to overturn the panel on the treaty issue and it was on this phase of the struggle that interest mainly centered as the polling began.

RESULTS FORECAST

Estimates were that at least fifteen of the independents would be successful with the anti-treaty party losing ten and the pro-treaty five seats.

The property classes were in the majority in the morning's voting and the inhabitants of the fashionable squares in the southern part of Dublin, who had been expected to abstain, were out in considerable numbers.

The workers are expected to poll largely in the evening and the voting time has been extended to nine o'clock for their convenience.

PROVISION FOR ELECTION

The Anglo-Irish treaty, signed last December, under which the Irish free state is being created, provided for the formation of an Irish parliament. The act to give the treaty effect, passed by the British parliament in March, stipulated that elections to a provisional parliament for the free state should be held "as soon as may be" after the passage of the act.

These are the elections being held in Ireland today. The parliament so elected is to pass upon the constitution for the free state under which a permanent parliament for Southern Ireland will be chosen.

Lacking any constitutional division of the country into districts for the present election, the act of the British parliament stipulated that the prospective members be nominated from the constituencies which elected members to the Parliament chosen under the Government of Ireland Act of 1920. Elections were held in Southern Ireland that year under this act, but the Parliament never came into being. Instead the members elected were declared by the Irish Republican Government at that time to constitute the membership of the Dail Eireann, or Republican Parliament, which, since the adoption of the Anglo-Irish treaty, has been allowed by the British government to function as virtually the recognized legislative body for Southern Ireland. It was the Dail Eireann, for instance, which passed upon the Anglo-Irish treaty itself, ratifying it, as will be recalled, by a majority of seven votes.

OFFICIAL SLATE

It was contemplated by the British government, and originally by the Irish Provisional government, led by Michael Collins, that today's election should be freely contested and should virtually constitute a plebiscite of Southern Ireland on the question of the treaty and the proposed constitution. The opposition to such a plebiscite on the part of the Republican faction, led by Eamon de Valera, was so determined, however, that late in May an agreement was reached between the Collins and de Valera factions that candidates previously agreed upon should be nominated by the two factions, comprising virtually an official slate, the members being chosen in the proportion in which the two factions are now represented in the Dail Eireann, or with a slight preponderance for the Collins party.

The new parliament will form a Coalition cabinet, drawn from the pro-treaty faction under Michael Collins, and the Anti-treaty forces under Eamon de Valera. An agreement reached in May by Collins and de Valera provided, among other things, for a cabinet of eleven members including the President and the Minister of Defense. The nine other members will be selected five from the majority party and four from the minority party, each party to choose its nominees.

MICHIGAN MOB STORMING JAIL

This shows the mob of Jackson (Mich.) citizens who stormed the jail there, demanding the sheriff surrender George Straub (lower right), held on a charge of having murdered Miss Alice Mallett (lower left). The mob was finally dispersed without violence.

STRAUB IS UNDER STRONG GUARD

Another Attempt to Lynch Murderer is Feared

LANSING, Mich. — (Associated Press) — George Straub, ex-convict, probably will be taken to Jackson within the next few days for arraignment on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Alice Mallett, as a result of a second confession to the slaying, authorities here announced today.

His return to Jackson, where the woman was killed with an axe a week ago, will depend largely upon public feeling in that city, where an attempt was made to lynch him earlier in the week.

Straub's second confession, according to O. L. Smith, assistant state attorney, was made late last night and was similar to his previous statement that he determined to attack Mallett, had been a shrubbery and grappled with Miss Mallett until she was about to overcome him, then struck her on the head with an axe he had picked up on a wood pile.

A negro circus employee, Clarence Meadowlark, was exonerated by Straub, the authorities reported, the prisoner declaring he implicated Meadowlark in his previous statement, believing "it would go easier" with him were he not the only man under suspicion.

Fearing another attempt at violence, a strong guard was kept about the city jail where Straub is held all last night. The precaution will be continued, it was announced, until the mob spirit was abated.

STUDENT KILLED

University of Michigan Senior Dies in Auto Crash

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (United Press) — Maurice Atkinson, of Battle Creek, senior class official who was to have received his diploma from the University of Michigan, Monday, was killed in an automobile accident here early today.

Three other students, James Bowlers, Dayton, Ohio; Miss Mildred Henry, Detroit; and Miss Helen McIntosh, Toledo, were injured when the automobile in which they were riding struck a truck and turned over in a ditch.

Atkinson was thrown from the car 15 feet against a post with such force it was broken.

Suffering from a fractured skull, he was taken to the University Hospital, where he died an hour later. University authorities have ordered an investigation.

BABY WEIGHS POUND AND SEVEN OUNCES AT BIRTH

MANSFIELD — What is believed to be the smallest baby ever born in Richland-co arrived yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gages, farmers, living in Springfield-twp. The baby weighed one pound and seven ounces at birth and was perfectly formed. A resusc was administered over the child's head without touching the child's body measured only a fraction over nine inches in length. The attending physician, says it will live, altho its cries are said to sound much like the creak of an insect.

COURT ORDERS RELEASE OF EDWIN A. MORSE

WASHINGTON — Justice S. D. S. of the District of Columbia supreme court today discharged from custody Edwin A. Morse, son of Charles W. Morse, New York shipbuilder, who had been held by United States Commissioner MacDonald for removal to New York to answer an indictment charging a conspiracy to use the mails for fraudulent purposes. The order was based on a habeas corpus petition sued out by Morse because the United States commissioner had refused evidence offered to refute the question of probable cause at the hearing before.

HOOVER SECURES COAL PACT

Agreement Reached to Prevent Advance in Prices

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Secretary Hoover has secured the agreement of representatives of the National Coal Association and the Retail Coal Merchants' Association on a plan for preventing advance in coal prices, covering both the producing and distributing branches of the industry.

Following a conference with spokesmen of the associations an announcement was made by Mr. Hoover that anthracite coal operators had agreed not to advance prices of spot coal to the Garfield price, plus additions necessary to cover increased costs in individual cases. The secretary said he believed this plan should result in price reductions in several districts of Pennsylvania and West Kentucky, adding that he already had been assured of the acceptance of this basis for Pennsylvania.

The agreement reached with representatives of the retail association, Mr. Hoover said was that they should co-operate to secure among other things that all coal is sold by retailers "at cost plus a reasonable selling charge."

15,000 HOMELESS

400 Buildings Swept by Fire in Avenne, N. Y.

ARVERNE, N. Y. — (United Press) — With 15,000 persons homeless, and 16 blocks of Arverne in smoking ruins, police today were searching for the cause of the conflagration which swept 400 buildings in this New York City suburb last night, causing a loss of $2,000,000.

The fire started near the Hotel Nautilus, with a sound like an explosion. It spread with startling rapidity, leaping from one block to another, and devouring hotels, handsome summer residences, a railway station and an orphanage and many buildings so quickly the occupants barely had time to escape.

Ruins were being combed today for possible victims. An ambulance surgeon said he saw many buried beneath a falling wall, while a blind man is declared by spectators to have been seen, hemmed in by flames, frantically dashing about in all directions seeking escape. He is believed to have perished.

PASTOR 'FIRED' BY SUPERINTENDENT

Preacher Deserts Family, He and Girl Are Missing

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — (Associated Press) — W. W. Culp, pastor of four churches in the vicinity of Springfield, who deserted his wife and nine children Wednesday and is missing with Miss Esther Hughes, 18, of Greenville, was today pronounced "fired" by Rev. Dr. W. A. Wiant, superintendent of the Springfield district of the Methodist Episcopal church, who went to Springfield to make arrangements for securing a preacher to take Culp's place.

This conference of the Methodist church has no action to take concerning the case of Culp, Rev. Dr. Wiant said. His license to preach will likely be withdrawn when the quarterly conference of the four churches he served meets July 1.

"My duty is to get another preacher for the churches," said Dr. Wiant. "I do not know whether I can do that before conference this fall or not. I am not responsible for the family, but I am going to see what the people down there can do to help them."

"He turned out to be a dirty scamp," Dr. Wiant said of Culp. "He came to me clean except for the bills he owed. He was well recommended by his friends. The man could be pleasant, but his expression was usually more like a cyclone or a thundercloud. While he had a good record as a Mennonite preacher, I approved him as a local Methodist preacher only because of the great shortage of ministers."

Each sub-commission will consist of eleven members, including one each from the leading powers, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, together with Holland. The remaining places on each sub-commission will be filled in accordance with the interests of the various other countries in the questions with which these bodies will deal.

Meanwhile the war between the press correspondents and Dutch officialsdom over the right of the former to enter the peace palace, where the conference sits, is affording great amusement to the visitors here, as well as a good laugh to many phlegmatic Hollanders who, like the people of other lands like to see bureaucracy beaten occasionally.

The newspapermen won the first engagement, but another battle seemed likely today.

GIRL IS RESCUED

Held Captive on Fishing Boat for Six Months

BREMERTON, Wash. — (Associated Press) — That she was held captive six months on a fishing boat was the story told authorities here by Grace Rahman, aged 15, who was taken by her father and police agents from the craft of Elmer Weber, aged 55, a fisherman. She was at her home today.

Weber was arrested. The girl disappeared December 26. Her story, police say, was that Weber seized her on the beach near Bremerton, took her aboard his boat, forced her to don boys' clothing and to cut her hair and had, thereafter, her ever since.

Weber is married and has eight children.

SHIP BILL O. K'D

Dry Amendment to Measure is Knocked Out

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Without a record vote the house merchant marine committee today rejected the Bankhead amendment to the ship subsidy bill providing that no government aid should be allowed ships on which liquor is sold.

The Edmunds proposal which would extend the Volstead law to the sea by fining ships of any registry touching American ports on which liquor selling was permitted, was not acted on and the committee ordered the bill reported by a straight party vote.

EUROPE NEARING ARMS CLASH

War Over Austria is Declared as Threatening

NATIONS LINED UP IN ROW

Czecho-Slovakia, France, Italy, Germany Concerned

(BY J. W. T. MASON)

NEW YORK — (United Press) — Another Balkan war over what is left of the corpse of Austria, is threatening to start new hostilities that may inflame Europe once more, as the powers meet at the Hague.

Czecho-Slovakia on the north of Austria and the Jugo-Slavia on the south are preparing to seize Austrian territory on the first signs of collapse.

LINE-UP OF NATIONS

France is supporting the Czechs and Italy the Jugo-Slavs. The Austrians see as their only salvation from dismemberment annexation to Germany, Chancellor Schober, who opposed annexation, has been forced from office. France will not tolerate annexation and will use Czecho-Slovakia's military force if necessary, to keep Austria and Germany apart.

The situation is most serious that has faced Europe since the war. Austria has turned to France for a loan threatening to proceed with the union with Germany unless the loan is granted.

If France offers enough money, there will be temporary respite. Otherwise a hostile crisis is inevitable.

THE HAGUE PARLEY

THE HAGUE — (Associated Press) — The Hague conference in the absence of the dominating political figures who guided the courses of the international gatherings at Geneva and Washington, seems destined to bring into the limelight another and younger group of leaders representing the great powers. They include Sir Philip Lloyd-Grease of England; M. Boulogne, France; Baron Avezano, Italy; M. Sato, Japan; M. Catter, Belgium and M. Van Karnebeck, Holland and already they have begun their efforts to shape the course of the conference.

At their initial private meeting they decided upon the scheme of a main Russian commission, with three sub-commissions which would give detailed study to the technical questions of credits, debts and treatment of private property owned by foreigners in Russia, which must later be negotiated with the Russians.

Each sub-commission will consist of eleven members, including one each from the leading powers, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, together with Holland. The remaining places on each sub-commission will be filled in accordance with the interests of the various other countries in the questions with which these bodies will deal.

Meanwhile the war between the press correspondents and Dutch officialsdom over the right of the former to enter the peace palace, where the conference sits, is affording great amusement to the visitors here, as well as a good laugh to many phlegmatic Hollanders who, like the people of other lands like to see bureaucracy beaten occasionally.

The newspapermen won the first engagement, but another battle seemed likely today.

TRIAL NEARS END

West Virginia Preacher May Know His Fate Soon

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va. — (United Press) — Testimony in the second trial growing out of the march of armed miners in Logan-co last summer will be concluded Saturday evening. If the attorneys defending Rev. James Wilburn, from a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Deputy Sheriff John Gore, succeed in their plans, there are 15 witnesses left of the array marshalled by the defense and the attorneys said today they would finish with the last one by noon tomorrow.

The defense concentrated its efforts on showing that Wilburn did not participate in the firing which resulted in Gore's death. So far the defense has confined itself to proving the agitation and fear of attack by operators prevailing among the miners and their families. This is designed to show the Wilburn party in self defense.

Defense attorneys were refused permission by the court to describe to the jury the mine guard system. The court held that this would not throw any light on Wilburn's personal state of mind.

RAIL WALKOUT IS ALMOST CERTAIN

Balloting Shows Overwhelming Majority for Suspension

CHIEFS TO ABIDE DECISION

Officers Ready to Serve Notice On Labor Board

CINCINNATI — (Associated Press) — Rail union chiefs were considering today serving formal notice on the railroad labor board that an overwhelming majority of the 1,225,000 shop craft and maintenance of way employees were voting in favor of a strike on July 1 and that officers of the unions would abide by the decision of the workers.

The notice, in effect, would formally communicate to the board the public statement issued here by the union heads which asserted that the board in ordering wage reductions had "so reduced the living standards that the strike becomes an act of self preservation." The statement also blamed the attitude of railroad managers as provocative of a strike.

BOARD'S ACTION AWAITED

Decision as to the dispatch of the formal notice to the board was held up by the union leaders, pending receipt of the board's action on further reductions affecting 350,000 station employees, clerks, express, signal men, stationary firemen and others, and train dispatchers.

The union heads have been in conference most of this week considering questions related to the canvass of the strike vote.

With more than 500,000 coal miners already on strike, a walk-out by rail workers would affect a second of the country's basic industries. No claims have yet been made as to the probable extent of a transportation tie-up, but as soon as the American Federation of Labor convention closes, the rail union executives will leave for Chicago to begin on June 25 a canvass of the strike vote, which is expected to be completed by that time.

MAY ASK INDEMNEMENT

The strike would include members of the "big four" transportation brotherhoods, whose members are engaged directly in moving trains. Before the close of the convention, the rail executives may ask the federation's endorsement of a strike by the shop craft and maintenance of way workers, similar to the endorsement given by the federation to the miners' strike.

The attitude of the rail union leaders on their threatened walk-out was summarized in a statement issued last night at the end of a long conference at which various problems confronting the rail men were discussed.

GOSSIP IN RAIL CIRCLES

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — On the eve of another railway wage slash, expected to top nearly $20,000,000 from the railroads' annual labor bill, covering 325,000 employees, gossip in rail circles centered today on the question of whether, if a strike ballot authorized the men to quit, a walkout will actually take place.

Reports from headquarters of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor said that the tri-colored ballots of the shopmen—400,000 of them are voting on three questions on three different colored ballots—were that a 100 per cent vote was expected and that indications thus far were that it would be overwhelming in favor of a strike.

TO FINISH BY JULY

Added to the shopmen's vote was the ballot being cast by 500,000 maintenance of way laborers. Both votes are to be completed before July 1, when the $110,000,000 slash for those two classes goes into effect. The shop union leaders have even urged their men to have their ballots in by June 23, so that they may be "advised" of the result before July 1.

Wage cuts for other classes—shop, signal men and stationary firemen—are expected to add their ballots to the others. That will leave only one of the eleven organizations not voting—the telegraphers—who will suffer no reduction, not being expected to take a strike vote.

MORE TO VOTE

With the decision looked for tomorrow, three more classes—clerks, signal men and stationary firemen—are expected to add their ballots to the others. That will leave only one of the eleven organizations not voting—the telegraphers—who will suffer no reduction, not being expected to take a strike vote.

Tomorrow's slash will not cut any one class more than five cents an hour, it is said, and the general average is thought to be lower.

The decision was expected earlier in the week but was delayed to allow labor members of the board to complete a minority opinion, which is said to be lengthy.

CHILDREN TO BE GIVEN FLAGS

Elks Order 5,000 for Free Distribution Among Lima Kiddies

PART OF SUNDAY PROGRAM

Faurot Park Being Decorated For Gala Occasion

Every child in Lima should have an American flag, Sunday. More than 5,000 have been ordered by the Lima Elks and will be distributed free to the children at Faurot park immediately following the ceremonies, and before the speech by Attorney General John G. Price.

It is the desire of the Lima Elks to instill reverence of the flag into the hearts of every child in Lima. A large portion of the program and the parade is being designed to interest the children.

GET AMMUNITION

Blank ammunition for use in the local artillery company, and which will take part in the military maneuvers at the close of the Elks Flag Day services Sunday, has been obtained from Canton.

It was necessary to send a man to Canton to bring it here. One of the company was delegated by Captain Cal Seifridge to obtain the necessary ammunition.

Three miles of hunting will be stung around the park and the community house, Walt DeWeese, chairman of arrangements, said Friday.

Every possible portion of the park will be decorated in accord with the day. No expense or trouble is being spared, DeWeese said.

Members of the fire department, with their apparatus, have been called upon to help place a new flag on the flag pole of the community house.

At the roof of the house is the aerial ladder to reach the top of the pole. Flags will be flying from every vantage point, the committee asserts.

A telegram was received from Attorney General Price Friday in which he said he would drive thru Lima in his automobile and would bring his family with him. He will deliver the principal address.

Events of the day will start with a parade at 3 p. m. from the Elks home. The ceremonies at Faurot park will start at 3 p. m. and continue through the afternoon.

MORE RAIN, SAYS WEATHER REPORT

The sudden deluge and accompanying thunder and lightning that struck Lima early Friday morning is predicted to re-appear sporadically during the remainder of the day and night. Fluctuations in temperature, however, will be moderate, the weather man declares, and also in order during the next few days. Temperature variations are not predicted accurately. It is merely pointed out that Saturday will probably be warm while Sunday will be cooler.

SWAT ROOSTERS, RIDGE URGES

Sell or Kill 'Em in June—Get Infertile Eggs

Allen-co farmers are being urged by the Farm Bureau to sell or eat the roosters in June, thus increasing the marketability of eggs from July on. H. J. Ridge, farm agent, said Friday.

Fertile eggs spoil very quickly during the summer months and prices decline because of the large amount of wastage. Infertile eggs keep well and may be preserved in waterglass for winter use, Ridge says.

Heat of only 70 degrees starts eggs to incubating, Ridge says and heat higher than that brings about rapid deterioration. Losses due to this are estimated by poultry experts at two cents on the dozen.

Many of the most successful poultry farms specializing in egg production eliminate the rooster entirely. It has been found that the male bird has no influence on the total number of eggs a hen lays.

These farms are able to sell eggs the year around at a higher price, because they are infertile and losses due to any of them turning bad are cut to a minimum, Ridge states.

Total elimination of the rooster in the farm flock is not recommended by Ridge. The farm flock must perpetuate itself and roosters are necessary.

They should be segregated from the hens after June 1, however, Ridge believes, until the breeding season in the spring.

Meetings are being held in various parts of the county in an effort to educate the farmers to better methods of raising chickens, producing eggs and preparing both for the market.

Farmers are responding to the campaign in a very gratifying way, Ridge says. A considerable improvement in Allen-co egg shipments has resulted and the full effects of the campaign are expected to be seen later.

WAS THREATENED, BOY TESTIFIES

Don States Names Probation Officer in Testimony

Threats that he would be sent to Lancaster reform school, if he did not confess, were made by probation officers to induce Aaron States, 15, to tell that Aaron States had sold him whisky, the boy testified in juvenile court Friday.

Don was the first witness called by the state in the trial of J. Aaron States, former county commissioner, who is charged with contributing to the delinquency of the boy.

He said to the jury that Frank Chapman, probation officer told him if he did not reveal the source of the whisky sold to him and later by him to dry sleuths, he would go to prison in Lancaster.

This testimony was brought out on cross examination. The boy seemed reluctant to make the statement.

A jury before Judge J. H. Hamilton is hearing the case. J. Aaron States is grandfather to the boy. Dry detectives induced the child to go out and buy them two quarts of whisky, it is asserted. When he delivered it they arrested him.

WARD'S SECRET IS REVEALED

Brother of Peters' Slayer Tells the Inside Story

GAMBLING BROUGHT TROUBLE

Exposures Threatened by Blackmailers, Witness Says

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. — (United Press) — The inside story of the blackmail plot, which caused Walter S. Ward to shoot and kill Clarence Peters, alleged member of the gang which was seeking to "bleed him white," has been told Justice Morschauser by Ralph D. Ward, his brother, it was learned today.

With Walter S. Ward in a cell here, under indictment on a charge of first degree murder and awaiting arraignment today, the authorities are checking up on Ralph's statement to Justice Morschauser. Their investigation may lead to the arrest of two alleged blackmailers known as Jack and Ross, who are believed to be race track habitués.

While the sheriff's deputies were searching for Walter S. Ward, following his indictment, Ralph was telling the blackmail story, in connection with an investigation conducted by Morschauser to determine whether members of the Ward family were conspiring to hold back the true story of the plot.

The original story told by Walter S. Ward of the killing of Clarence Peters was lent credence by the testimony of his brother, it was learned.

STORY OF GAMBLING

Ward, confessed killer of Peters, did so to end unbearable blackmail that arose from his follies at the track, according to the story told by his brother. Gambling more and more heavily, the millionaire baker's son had become involved with and in debt to the undesirable hangers-on at New York race meets. He started betting at Empire City track.

He was urged to bet more and more, and each time he lost and went deeper in debt. Commissioner of the New Rochelle police and a prominent citizen, whose early record furnished the blackmailers with what they considered a lever to extort more money, Ward was easy prey.

Then a threat was made involving exposure of another member of the Ward family. Ward had no choice but to pay, his brother said. He paid at one time $30,000 it is believed, in a desperate effort to quiet his persecutors.

The blackmailers, known to Ward as "Jack" and "Ross," made Ward's life a living hell, according to his brother. They were at him each day, with new threats and more exorbitant demands. They invaded his office at the Ward Baking Company and talked loudly of affairs at the track, urging him to bet, while he made vain efforts to quiet them, last employees hear them. They dogged his footsteps and frequently accosted him while he was engaged with business acquaintances.

At no time, Ward's brother declared, was the persecuted millionaire free from the torture. "Jack" and "Ross" called him on the telephone during business hours, and in the middle of the night. He would go home to New Rochelle to find them sitting on his doorstep. They invaded the privacy of his home and spoke familiarly to his relatives.

Nearly distracted by the persecution, Ward nevertheless was forced to refuse the blackmailers' demands for $75,000. He hadn't the money available.

MORE THREATS

Then the threats of "Jack" and "Ross" became more violent. They threatened to expose still another member of the Ward family. They declared they would tell of Ward's own early life and of an incident he wished to conceal.

Finally, the night before the killing of Peters, the blackmailers told Ward to go to a lonely spot near White Plains, according to his brother's story. As he left hurriedly in his coupe after an angry meeting, they fired two shots at him. The next night, Ward went armed to a rendezvous. It was on this second occasion, his brother believes, that Walter shot Peters in self defense.

Ward's father, the millionaire head of the baking company of that name, still is sought by officials. They want his testimony to see if any members of the Ward family have been guilty of defeating the ends of justice.

WARD DENIES GUILT

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. — (Associated Press) — Walter S. Ward denied not guilty today when he was arraigned before the Supreme Court Justice Morschauser on an indictment charging first degree murder in connection with the shooting of Clarence Peters. When counsel for the wealthy banker's son requested that he be placed on trial immediately he was informed by the court that his case would have to take the course as that of any other prisoner.

Former Officer Escapes Fine On Traffic Charge

Is a former police officer incapable of breaking the traffic code, due to his knowledge of what is and what is not proper in auto deportment?

Rolla Glover, 136 1-2 W. High-st., who recently resigned from the force, believes so. His alibi was perfected in criminal court Friday and he was released from a charge of parking in a safety zone.

A former brother officer tagged Glover's car, alleging he over-ran the boundaries of a safety zone on N. Main-st., but he proved the "force" of his alibi projected just a teensy weensy bit over the line, so little as hardly to be visible to the naked eye.

The court wasn't receptive to microscopic examinations and let the ex-cop go.

Two speeders deposited $10 each Friday. Armin Wise, 230 S. Cole-st. and Dr. E. H. Hedges, 1312 Lakewood-ave., were the victims. Wise was driving at 31 miles per hour and Hedges went him one better by hitting a 32-mile clip, police say.

Baxter Fisher, 700 E. Linden-ave., was fined $5 for parking without tail light.

WEINFELD'S CASE IS SERIOUS

Prominent Philanthropist Operated on at St. Rita's Hospital

Fly Denied Rights of Lowly Bum

Sam Weinfeld lies seriously ill at St. Rita's hospital. At 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon he had not regained consciousness from the effects of ether given him earlier in the day in order that a serious abdominal operation might be performed.

Reports from the hospital were to the effect that the results of the operation are problematical. The seriousness of the case led attending physicians to refuse to make definite predictions concerning the outcome.

The operation was performed at 9 a. m. Friday under the hand of expert surgeons brought here from Ft. Wayne, where Weinfeld has been spending the past few weeks while physicians diagnosed his case. Assisting the operating surgeons was Gustav Weinfeld, son of the patient and third year medical student at the University of Michigan, home to attend his father.

Mrs. Weinfeld and the other son, Adolph, were at the hospital. Persistent calls to the hospital kept the phones at that institution busy thru-out the morning as friends of the Weinfeld family sought to learn of the condition of the patient.

Weinfeld has been ailing for the past year from abdominal trouble that has led him thru-out the country in an effort to find a cure. Despite the illness however, his untiring interest in public welfare has been maintained. He has been prominent in philanthropic matters in Lima ever since he has been in this city. In business he is connected with the Deisel-Wemmer company and the Weinfeld Fruitless dry cleaning concern.

SEEKS MESSAGES FROM MARS

Marconi Has Wireless Ready For Communication

(By JACK DARROCK)

ABOARD MARCONI'S PRIVATE YACHT ELETTRA, Hudson River— (United Press) — Mysterious sounds came from without the ether to the powerful but delicately tuned receiving sets in Senator William Marconi's private cabin during his fortnight's vigil on the Atlantic, awaiting messages from Mars.

But the visiting planet, closer now than for nine years, failed to communicate definitely with the earth, the inventor said upon arrival off New York today.

"I listened practically all the time — day and night, for two weeks," Marconi said, in an exclusive interview with the United Press. "I had my own instruments ready so they would receive from anybody, no matter where, who might send."

"Several times, I heard mysterious sounds I could not understand or explain. I do not think they were from Mars. In fact, I am not certain if Martians are trying to communicate. But I was there to do everything possible to record messages if any were sent."

"I shall continue to try to receive communications from Mars, however slight the chances of it."

"Sunday, when the planet comes closest to us, I shall be 'on the job' as you say, all day, and shall pay every attention to pick up possible messages from the Martians."

Fly Denied Rights of Lowly Bum

His Nibs, the housefly, had the stigma of social ostracism placed on him Friday at police headquarters when Turnkey Al Stewart and Sergeant Harry Grant placed double screen doors in the main entrance.

He is not wanted, either dead nor alive.

Immunity was granted His Buzz and winged associates on the grounds of the statute of limitations. Guilt is plain, but to round up the sharp-billed desperados—there's the rub.

His first offense is sneaking into headquarters and perching on Desk Sergeant Webb Harrison's pate. It is whispered that Webb is one of the most ardent supporters of the exile measure against His Nuisance.

A price on his head, hounded from place to place, visions of swatting bludgeons bedimmed his erstwhile carefree existence—now even refused entrance to jail—such is the unhappy lot of Musca Domestica. The classed as a bum, he has not that wanderer's prerogative of occasional sestas in the damp and cool of the city dungeon.

It must have been the astral boings of a few of the outcasts that drowned a melancholy chant as the carrier was put up, for mysterious sightings were heard. But it probably was the small exclusive set of cooties, who despite disinfectants, will find their way to jail. The Old Guard may have been rejoicing that now they will have the field all to themselves.

There is a loophole. Windows of police court are not yet screened. Thru it Musca may enter and appeal his case to the bench. Who knows?

COLLECTOR CONVICTED ON DISORDERLY CHARGE

Roger Madder, collector, was found guilty Friday in criminal court on a charge of disorderly conduct. The complainant, Mrs. Josephine Snider, 612 N. Jackson-st., alleged he used abusive language in addressing her while on a call, seeking collection of a bill.

No penalty was pronounced by Judge Emmett J. Jackson and a motion for re-trial may be introduced.

INFANT CRURINE DIES.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crurine, 804 S. Main-st., died Friday, shortly after birth, at St. Rita's hospital. Besides the parents, three brothers and a sister survive. The jury was taken to Pine-st crossing to view the surroundings earlier in the day. Following their return to the court room, the case was settled.

INCOME TAX HITS 1 OUT OF 3

Two Million Payers Added to List in 1929

MANY MILLIONAIRES ESCAPE

Dodge by Investing in Securities Free From Levy

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — One family out of every three pays an income tax in this country.

Almost 2,000,000 new income tax payers were added to the list in 1929.

The total amount collected from the 7,259,344 payers was $1,075,053,686.

In the previous year 5,323,700 persons paid $889,477,265.

Alaska contributed less than twenty millions and the state contributing the smallest amount, $25,000,000 was Nevada.

The truth is that there are more multi-millionaires in America today than there ever were before, except perhaps for a short period before the inflated war boom burst.

Don't imagine for a moment that the number of Americans having a total income of $1,000,000 or more actually decreased from 206 in 1916 to 33 in 1929. Nothing of the kind happened. The explanation is that the ultra-rich learned how to dodge having to pay over to the income tax collector more than 70 cents of each $1 of their income. They took to investing their capital in securities free from any income tax levy.

How serious a matter this is from the government's point of view—and from the point of view of the rest of us who have to help to keep the government of the country going—is realized when you note that the taxable income of multi-millionaires shrank from $464,000,000 in 1916 to $77,000,000 in 1929.

And you can depend upon it that the returns from 1921 will show another heavy decrease in payments by those enjoying $1,000,000 incomes.

The worst of it is that no remedy is likely to be applied in the near future. The constitution of the United States gives states, counties and municipalities power to sell tax-free securities. It would therefore take an amendment to the constitution to forbid this practice. Constitutional amendments are affected very, very slowly. Moreover it is extremely doubtful if two-thirds of our states would voluntarily vote to give up this privilege.

The only other way to abate the evil would be to reduce very drastically the income tax rate levied upon huge incomes. The highest surtax fixed for this year is 50 percent as contrasted with 65 percent formerly. This however will not fully meet the problem. And as the expense of running the government is not likely to be very greatly reduced within the next few years, it isn't quite clear how it will be feasible for congress to bring the highest surtax down to a point which will make it more profitable for the rich to invest in taxable than in tax-exempt securities.

Unfortunately the supply of tax-free securities continues inordinately large. So many have it become for every railroad and hotel township to float bonds that the outpouring has been and continues to be exhaustive. Indeed, the diversion of capital from business purposes to municipalities has become a grave matter, since it has greatly lessened the amount of money available for industrial, railway, mining, agricultural and other reproductive purposes and has thus tended to reduce employment and to increase tax burdens all over the country.

It is interesting to note that the number of persons reporting taxable incomes of $1,000 to $2,000 increased 747,075 and that the increase in $2,000 to $3,000 incomes was practically one million.

No fewer than 7,242,802 had incomes ranging from $1,000 to $50,000 in 1929 against 5,513,914 in 1919.

But the number having incomes of from $50,000 to $1,000,000 and over decreased 3,104.

Happily the current year promises to produce more satisfactory incomes than last year and 1928 should do very much better. America is once again on the upstroke.

DIPLOMAS TO BE AWARDED

Parochial School Commencement Exercises Are Scheduled

PRIESTS TO MAKE ADDRESSES

Thirty-six Catholic Students Will End Academic Careers

A class of thirteen graduates will step from school life into life's school at annual commencement exercises of St. John's parochial high school, to be held Monday at 8 p. m.

The class consists of Ralph Boucher, Joseph Miller, Kathryn McDonough, Gladys Blum, Mary McGreevy, Jane Munnagh, Germaine Butler, Bernadine Ribley, Mary Lechner, Mary Connor, Romaine Ellerman, Edith Forche and Lucile Thompson.

MUSICAL PROGRAM
Five hundred school children, members of St. John's parish, will participate in choruses, solos, duets and trios, in providing music for the commencement.

Rev. Father Plumaus will deliver the class address. August Falk, member of the Junior class of the High school, will deliver the farewell address to the class.

Annual commencement exercises of St. Gerard's High school will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the church. The class address will be delivered by Rev. Father James Clark, pastor of St. Gerard's. The class numbers ten pupils. Rev. Father Clark is now making up the program.

IRISH TREATY IN BALANCE TODAY

Valera faction against the Provisional government. At the same time it was received, with something like consternation in British governmental circles. It was believed in England that it struck at the basis of the treaty in preventing a free expression of Southern Irish opinion on the pact and that it might represent also the yielding of the Collins faction to the militant anti-treaty party, which has been insistent that the fight for a republic be kept up.

In this situation the British authorities asked the leading representatives of the Provisional government to come to London for a conference, and lengthy conversations between cabinet members and the Irish representatives took place during the week of May 28. As a result Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill, in a speech in the British House of Commons on June 1, announced what was virtually the decision of the British government to let the elections proceed as arranged by the two factions in Ireland. This was coupled, however, with the warning that if any of the members of the coalition government, representing both sides of the new elections, should fail to subscribe to the declaration of adherence to the treaty, the British government would consider that this constituted a violation of the treaty. The British government would feel free in that case, he said, to resume full liberty of action as to reclaiming the powers ceded to the Irish authorities under the treaty. It was broadly hinted by Mr. Churchill indeed, that this might mean a military re-occupation of Southern Ireland by the British.

Mr. Churchill said also it had been explained by the Irish representatives that they considered it virtually impossible to hold free elections at the present time. They expected militant opposition from the opponents of the treaty, and this would prevent voters from registering their free choice.

The list of candidates for election, issued in Dublin, leaves the present composition of the Dail Eireann only slightly altered.

There are 128 seats in the counties, boroughs and universities of Free State constituencies, for which 124 candidates appear in the panel. The other four, forming the constituency of Dublin University are left uncontested by the coalition on the presumption that they will be returned unopposed.

Altho 125 seats are represented in the panel, only 124 candidates will be nominated, because Commander General Dan Breen was selected for both sides in the division formed by East Tipperary and Waterford county and city.

The panel gives 66 seats for proponents of the treaty and 59 for Republicans.

In County Monaghan, Dr. McCarbille was selected by the Republicans in place of Sean McEntee, who is a strong opponent of the treaty. P. O'Kelly was nominated in Dublin county for the same vacant seat thru the recent death of Frank Lawless.

Independents probably will contest 20 constituencies. The Irish Farmers' Union has between 20 and 30 candidates ready; the Labor nominees number 20, and half a dozen candidates will run in the cities of Dublin, Cork and Limerick on behalf of business interests.

The Republican list for Kildare and Wicklow contains the names of Robert C. Barton, Erskine Childers, Art O'Connor and Dan Buckley, the only pro-treaty candidate in that constituency being C. M. Byrne.

Several Ratepayers' Association candidates will appear unattached, while the Independent nominees include the Lord Mayor of Dublin, Alderman Alfred Byrne, for the City of Dublin and E. MacLysacht for County Clare.

STATES' TRIAL IS ON IN COURT

Former County Official Charged With Contributing

J. Aaron States, former county commissioner, went on trial in juvenile court Friday, facing charges of contributing to the delinquency of his grandson Don, 15. States is alleged to have sold the lad whisky, manufactured by himself.

This is the second occasion that the aged man has been haled into court thru alleged liquor making operations. He was released on a former occasion, on promise to quit moonshining.

Don States was trapped in purchasing the whisky from his grandfather by two wily dry detectives, it is said. The detectives may be held on the same charge as that against States, officials state.

A jury was secured in the case shortly before noon. Judge J. H. Hamilton is hearing the case, which is one of the few public trials ever held in Juvenile court. Both Eugene T. Lippincott, prosecuting attorney, and R. R. Truhey, assistant, are representing the state.

YOU ARE INVITED TO HEAR HAYDEN'S CREATION, SUNDAY EVENING, 8 O'CLOCK, AT TRINITY CHURCH.

LIGHTNING HITS HOME; FAMILY ESCAPES INJURY

C. W. Rinaqua, wife and three children, 811 College-av., escaped injury from a lightning bolt which struck their home at 7 a. m. Friday, slightly damaging the outer casing of a bay window. The lightning broke over the city before 7 o'clock.

They were sleeping on the second floor when the bolt struck. They were not awakened. The lightning followed telephone wires and was grounded. Glass in the window was not broken and save for a few shattered weather boards and plaster scattered about no damage was done. The fire department was called, but its services were not required, no fire resulting from the crash.

BRAIN INJURED

ST MARYS — Grave doubt is expressed over the condition of Louis Kemper, 24, Jackson-st., who suffered possible concussion of the brain when he fell from the top of a hay wagon. It is believed that the fall was due to the victim having been overcome by heat.

PASTORS MEET

CINCINNATI — Forty pastors from Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Missouri, representing the Evangelical Protestant church of North America met here today for a four day convention. Among the addresses scheduled are "What is Best for Religion," by the Rev. Paul Voght, Homestead, Pa., and "Individual Church Workers" by the Rev. Carl August Voss of Pittsburg, Pa.

AGENCIES WAGE FIGHT ON RUM

Court Records Show Little Progress is Made

LIQUOR FOES ARE GROUPED

Federal, State, County, City Forces Unite

Five agencies engaged in the suppression of liquor law violations in Allen county and throughout the state have made little progress in their common work, if court records can be taken as an indication.

Records show that the number of persons arrested in Allen county is large but no larger and certainly no less than a year ago.

The agencies engaged in running down booze may be roughly grouped as follows:

LEGISLATIVE CHASERS
Internal revenue officers, whose business it is to see that manufacture and sale such as is permitted by law is in no way violated. They have operated but little in this vicinity.

Federal enforcement officers, who ferret out violations of the Volstead act.

State dry enforcement officers, several of whom have worked in Lima.

County officers, represented by the sheriff's office, deputies and numerous constables.

And lastly the police department. Their success on the surface is marked. Yet violations continue to be as numerous and arrests as frequent as when the prohibition laws were first enacted.

DIFFICULT TO STOP
"It is a hard matter to stamp it out," declared Chief Thomas A. Lankford.

Prosecuting Attorney Eugene T. Lippincott believes there is less real liquor in the county than a year ago. "None is being made, and what there is goes fast," he declared.

HAWAII STEPPING STONE TO U. S.

Rise Used by Filipinos to Enter America

75 PER CENT LEAVE ISLANDS

Investigator Reports Situation to General Wood

MANILA, P. I. — (Associated Press) — About seventy-five per cent of the Filipino laborers who go to Hawaii to work on plantations there eventually expect to reach the mainland of the United States, according to the report of Francisco Varona just submitted to Governor General Wood. Mr. Varona was commissioned early in 1920 by former Governor General Harrison to investigate and report on the condition of Filipino laborers in Hawaii.

According to Commissioner Varona's report the Filipino laborers were not treated by their employers in the same manner as other nationals. The Philippines complained especially of harsh treatment received at the hands of the foremen of plantations, according to the report. These foremen, the report says, were usually Portuguese, Portuguese, Scotchmen or Germans. LACK DILIGENCE

On the other hand the Hawaiian planters complained that it was difficult to make the laborers work constantly, the report says. This lack of diligence and perseverance was the reason why planters did not assign Filipinos to work in the sugar centrals or to other work involving responsibility, according to the report. The planters also complained that the Filipinos failed to take proper care of the quarters furnished them, this being the principal reason why they were not given better quarters in which to live. Continuing Commissioner Varona said:

"There were also many complaints about the tendency of the Filipino laborers to leave Hawaii and go to the mainland of the United States. About seventy-five per cent of these laborers, mostly the younger ones, sign contracts in the Philippines with the intention of making Hawaii a stepping stone to the United States."

The total number of Filipinos in Hawaii at the time the report was prepared, was 12,995 of whom 7,429 were field laborers.

FOULARDS

Foulard frocks, particularly those of dull finished material, are extremely smart for midsummer wear. Many of these eschew any form of trimming but the soft drapery, caught up at one side of the waist.

UMBRELLAS

There is a new type of umbrella on the market, from which the silk coverings and detachable, and any one may have a number of covers for the same frame and always have the parasol harmonize with the costume.

LIGHT HOSIERY

Gray and champagne colored stockings are considered most smart for daytime wear. They naturally take to black patent leather pumps.

The establishment, doubtless the largest orphanage in the world, is maintained by the Near East Relief, and the more important of the many stone buildings scattered over its 200 acres will hereafter bear the name of an American state. Then this state will be invited to contribute to the support of its house. The cost of caring for an orphan boy in Polygon is about $5.00 a month. ## Kings and Generals Are Glad To Pose For Paintings By Micheline Resco

NEW YORK—The Mademoiselle Micheline Resco is only 25—She has won in competition with 160 famous artists a $2,000 prize offered by the Knights of Columbus for the best portrait of General John J. Pershing—

She has painted portraits of Europe's leading royalty and diplomatic and political celebrities—She has been the only artist for whom Marshal Ferdinand Foch would consent to pose—

And now she has come to conquer America!

"It will be the climax of my career if I can paint portraits of your famous Americans," she said in an interview here. "It's the ambition of my life to paint President Harding. I am trying to make arrangements for this, but the matter has not been conclusively settled."

CONGRATULATE PRINCESS
"I notice Americans are deeply interested in the marriage of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Princess Marie of Rumania," pointing to a newspaper—"Well, I did a portrait of King Alexander while he still was a prince, staying in Paris. Princess Marie has my congratulations. A gentler or more courteous man than King Alexander never entered my studio. And he's democratic, too."

Another royal portrait made by Mademoiselle Resco was that of King Feisal, ruler of the Arabian kingdom of Iraq—a red sheik. He came to her studio in his sheik costume of flowing robes and caftan.

"I've found that the greater men are, the easier sitters they make," Mademoiselle Resco says. "A great celebrity is much less fussy than an unimportant person."

SOLDIER'S PATIENT
"I've painted many military men and they're really the best subjects. They've been trained to obey and they'll hold a pose for any length of time with the greatest patience."

"Royalty is easy, too, but kings, you know, should be flattered. Statesmen are rather more nervous than others when they're sitting."

Mademoiselle Resco's prize portrait of General Pershing will be formally presented to the French government by Edward L. Hearn, European commissioner of the Knights of Columbus.

Her portrait of Marshal Foch will hang in an official gallery with those of past marshals of France.

ADmits CHECK WORTHLESS; ZIMMERMAN HELD TO JURY

A plea of guilty was entered to a charge of issuing a worthless check with intent to defraud, by L. Zimmerman, 120 W. McKibben-st., in criminal court Friday. According to police he wrote a check for $3, payable to W. Kollars, grocery proprietor, 641 S. N. Main-st., with knowledge that he had no funds in the bank. He was arrested Friday morning.

The paper was given last week, Kollars says, after Zimmerman borrowed $3 from him on the plea that he was short of "change."

Zimmerman's offer to pay back the money if the prosecution was dropped was not accepted. Zimmerman was held to the grand jury. He gave bond in $250.

Judge Becker Takes Church Case Under Advisement

Decision in the case of M. J. Baldut, against Bethany Lutheran Church, to recover property deeded the church board by Sophrona Kirchbaum, heard in common pleas court, Thursday, was taken under advisement by Judge Fred C. Becker.

The plaintiff contended that the property was obtained by fraud. Sophrona Kirchbaum, was an inmate, placed in Baldut's care by Crawford-co. court, it is said. She executed the deed to the church in 1920.

Webster Spayde, president of the church board testified that the deed was obtained legally. Income from the property was reserved by the donor during her life time.

Camping Out Is Fascinating, But Often Unpleasant

No matter what some folks say, there is a certain fascination connected with camping out which "gets" most of the city toilers just about this time of year.

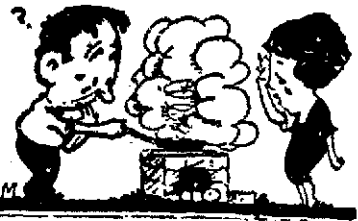

Ex-army buddies are recalling the nights spent under an army pup tent and are longing for the time to come when they can stretch out on terra firma and be at peace with the world.

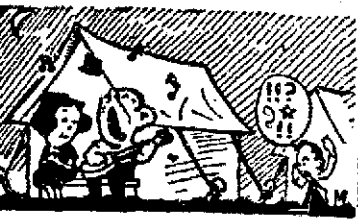

Putting up a tent is a science, especially the trick ones generally carried by campers. It is like the pie-man top on an automobile, it requires the whole family to put it up. Things begin to get interesting when pa hits himself on the foot with the axe.

Outdoor cooking may have been a howling success in France, but it falls completely when tried out at Lake George, Indiana, or at the St. Marys reservoir. Wife knows what is meant by the horrors of war when she sees some of the stuff her husband messes up.

Then when n. t comes and the weary camper turns in for a good night's sleep, he is apt to be awakened by some lovesick young buck singing mushy songs to his sweet woman.

Joy (?) reigns supreme in the camp when along about 2 a. m. the winds and the rain descend upon the slumbering campers. No matter how hard it blows or how much water falls, there is always some hardened egg who insists in sleeping thru the whole thing.

Little trials and tribulations like this may be bothersome at the time but they make mighty good talking points later when one is relating his experiences around the cheery fire at the club.

ERUPTION OF KILAUEA PREDICTED

Eruption of Kilauea, dread volcano of Hawaii, is predicted by Prof. T. A. Jagger, noted geologist, who has spent years studying the crater. He says the outbreak may come at any moment, and probably will rival or even surpass the disastrous eruption of 1840 in which whole villages were wiped out with great loss of

DO YOU GET UP NIGHTS ON ACCOUNT OF BLADDER?

This Symptom Tells You Something Is Wrong. A Dayton Man's Experience

Mr. John Lampkins, 7 Carrie St., Dayton, Ohio, says his own home paper, the Dayton Herald: "For two years I had to get up fifteen to twenty times each night. The swelling and pain was awful. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu, the gravel came, and at least twenty-five pieces have passed. Some were as large as a bean. I am glad to have this way of telling my fellow sufferers about this great new remedy."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts on the bowels. It cleans them out and helps to relieve the passage of abnormal deposits. The tablets cost 25 cents. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several expensive drugs, which are useful for relief. The formula is on the package. It is likely you have never taken anything similar. Try a few doses for backache, swelling, scanty or highly colored urine and frequent desire at night.

Be sure to get the Ketter formula Lithiated Buchu at Hunter's 3 Stores and drug stores everywhere or write The Ketter Laboratory, Mechanicsville, Ohio.—Adv.

COLLINS APPOINTS SCHOOL STAFFS

Few Changes in Personnel; Salary Schedule Remains Same

ENROLLMENT EXCEEDS 8,000

Schools Crowded to Capacity; Basement Rooms Used

Complete appointments for the teaching staffs of the public schools of Lima were announced Friday by J. F. Collins, superintendent of instruction.

Practically every available room in every available school building in the city is provided with an instructor, be pointed out, to care for the increasing enrollment that marks each year of educational history here.

The enrollment during the past year, records show, for the first time in the history of the city, exceeded 8,000. Exact figures place the enrollment at 8,466, or nearly 700 more than the year before.

GRADE INCREASE

In the grade schools alone, Collins declared, an increase of 453 was noticed, taxing the capacity of the school system, to the utmost limit. In at least six schools of the city, the superintendent pointed out, it will be necessary to use improvised class rooms in the basements to care for the increase in enrollment. A similar condition prevails in the high school, it is said.

"We do not know at present, just how we will solve this problem of caring for all of the students," Collins declared. "We will probably work out some such system as the plan system with shortened periods for the high school and junior high school." The matter, he said, would be cared for during the summer months and would be ready by the time school opens next fall.

Salaries for instructors and teachers remain practically the same as during the past year. Collins said. The average salary for teachers in Lima, the superintendent pointed out, is slightly below the state average.

More applications for teacher's positions were received this year than could be handled, Collins said.

MORE GRADUATING

"Many more people are turning towards education as a profession now. Others have at last released themselves from war conditions. The normal schools are graduating a great many more teachers now than ever before," Collins declared. Eleven teachers married and withdrew from the profession during the past year. Nine others asked leave of absence that they might take work in normal schools. Eleven former teachers who have been spending the past year at normal schools have returned and have been reappointed to positions on the Lima school staffs.

All positions open, and for which there are room in the Lima school system, have been filled. Miss Zella Foster, acting as assistant principal of Central High school, was given complete charge of the Central Junior High school as principal.

Practically all other appointments remain the same. Both new and old are as follows:

IT IS TIME FOR A SUMMER SILK FROCK

Summer Crepes Thistledue! Foulards

The family of summer crepes is large—and varied. But to begin with and end with, too, for there is only one now—and that is figured Canton—there are four different patterns—all gayly colored, at $3.00 a yard.

The Grey has a small rose figure, the Rose predominates on white—and is tubable. Periwinkle is much like the grey, and there is one of a number of colors in one pattern. Very effective materials and of the type that denote their pronounced classification—they were designed for Summer frocks.

The dainty woman and her compact set are inseparable—especially in the summertime. We would suggest Three Flowers, at $1, or Luxor with a larger puff at $1.25. Lounay contains rouge, lipstick, eyebrow pencil and powder, in the regular size box—with the mirror top—complete $3.

Shampoo oprons of rubber sheeting, for long or short hair, long and well made, priced each $2.25.

Children's summer voile dresses, 4 to 10 years, very fine sheer material, and daintily printed for embroidering. They are cleverly cut, and the style is cool in the extreme. A sweet little frock—and finished well—ready to embroider, $1.29.

Imported Italian Faience Art Ware, in white with color decorations, of self material. Basket vases and double vases. This fine glass work shows the skill of the Italian glass worker clearly and is really priced very low, from 89c to $4.98.

Silk Bramley ties, for Blouses and one piece dresses. Crepe de chine and other silks, either in plain or plaid weaves, in blue, brown, red, etc.—50c each.

Little Girl's Organdy bonnets, in beautiful summer shades such as light blue and pink—lavender, and pure white. Stitched and shirred with soft frames. To match summer frocks—3 to 6 year sizes, $1.50 to $2 each. And specially priced at the mentioned figures.

Carpet sweepers — Bluem sweepers, of metal in imitation of mahogany. Complete a very unusual bargain at $1.19.

Flat extension curtain rods—brass finish—12 1-2c each.

ORIENTAL RUGS, 20 TO 40 PER CENT DISCOUNT.

Have your rugs washed and repaired by our native Persians.

The appropriate thing to cool small offices, and warm nooks in the home is a Polar Cub electric fan. It is 6 1/2 inches in diameter, and has a wide and far-reaching force. The regular price of these little fans is $5—but we are having a special sale on them at $3.89.

Thistledue is the most celebrated sports material of the summer season at the leading beaches. It is 36 inches wide—and resembles very fine-tweed. Its colors are mixtures of white with the smartest sport shades. It is decidedly the newest thing on the market and is exclusive in that it cannot be duplicated in cheaper weaves. It can be found at Bluem's only. Retail at $5.50 in the larger cities—BLUEM'S SPECIAL PRICE—

$5 yd.

Foulards are the most practical of materials. They have been worn with equal popularity for several seasons. But the designs denote the lateness of the fabric. This season's are small—either floral or with an effect of the Orient.

One especially is worthy of mention that belongs to the Oriental class. It is black and red, and the design is a Chinese symbol in writing. Very effective when made up properly—$2.75 yd.

Sport silks in crepe or other weaves—suitable for frocks and skirts—$1.50 up.

ANNETTE KELLERMANS

The quality of Annette Kellerman all wool bathing suits is unquestionable. They are made of the finest materials—and the styles are world famous. Color combinations are always attractive—sometimes in conservative and often in brilliancy. There is a range in the styling, too—Small and large sizes are fashioned differently—and give satisfaction in appearance—unusual satisfaction.

Bathing Caps to match the suits— in ideas that are this year's exclusives. Diving or bathing caps — from 50c to $1.00 each.

Bathing shoes or slippers—with soft or heavy sole — in colors to match suits and hats — Smart new styles at 75c, 99c and $1.25 pair.

The new shades that have been brought out in the last two seasons are featured largely in Annette Kellerman bathing suits for the summer of 1922. They include jade—Dent de Lion—etc.—and several of the new blues. Greens, brown and tan in combination, purples of several hues, black, and grey are only a few of the many.

The styles are unusual in every manner too—some are almost boyish—with little white leather belts to contrast the colors. Others are more elaborate and are trimmed in colors. Bathing tights too, may be had in all wool—in grey or black. WE ARE FEATURING WOOL BATHING SUITS IN PLACE OF THOSE OF FABRICS BECAUSE THEY ARE WHAT THE PEOPLE DEMAND FOR BEACH WEAR, and are undoubtedly the most popular.

FLAPPER STARTS REGULAR RIOT

Dashes in Again Where Angels
Fear to Tread

PURVEYS OF HUMOR INVADIED

Rush For Cafe Brulo Stirs City of New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS — (Special) — The flapper has dashed in again where angels fear to tread—this time into the purveys of humor! And has started a regular riot!

One-half the riot was caused by the rush to get the latest number of "Cafe Brulo," the comic monthly put out by students of Tulane University; the other half was caused by frantic efforts of college and public school officials, preachers and parents to keep "Cafe Brulo" out of the young people's hands.

Most of the flapper fun in "Cafe Brulo"—which gets its name from a drink famous in New Orleans before prohibition—was contributed by girl students of Newcomb College. But the faculty of Newcomb has barred the publication from the college campus. The faculty of the largest girls' high school in New Orleans has done likewise.

"Evil to him who evil thinks," is the defense of Helen Dymond, managing editor of "Cafe Brulo" and a student of Newcomb, who is the daughter of an aristocratic southern family.

Here are samples of the flapper fun from "Cafe Brulo" that has started the frenzy and made the last number a best seller despite the prohibitions laid against it. This one rhymes:

Oh, in the summer's night,
With some one's arms around me,
I think of the times gone by,
When other arms have bound me.

Of other lies,
Neath summer skies,
Of other lips I've tasted,
The stuff in miles.

I spilled with smiles,
So the evening wasn't wasted,
That in the summer's night,
When Tommie's arms are round me.

I compare it to the night gone by,
When Jack's or Jim's arms bound me.

Evidently "Cafe Brulo" sense a disposition on the part of some students to violate Volstead.

Lives there a stud with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
Oh where, oh where, oh where, oh mine
Didst thou get that of divine?

This jest seems to have something to do with osculation and the author endeavors to point a moral:

He: Is your father home?
She: Yes, in the next room.
He: Are you a ventriloquist?
She: Silly, no. Oh! Um-mum-m—!

MORAL: If they can't scream while they are being kissed, they won't when it's over.

Artificial aids to beauty have a defender on the staff of "Cafe Brulo," judging from this:

Lives there a girl with pride so dead
Whose cheeks were never touched with red
Whose nose kept are its virgin shine
Whose lips were never touched by thin—

Oh lipstick!
This one appears in the column of "Advice to the Lovelorn":

Q. — I am a young man 21 years of age. I have plenty of money, an automobile, and am fairly good looking, but I can get no one to go with me. What must I do?

A. — You are either a prevaricator or have not given me full info.

The "Cafe Brulo" seems not to stop at any subject, no matter how serious:

NOTABLES TO BE MARION GUESTS

High Officials to Attend Hundredth Anniversary Jubilee

HARDINGS WILL BE PRESENT

Celebration Takes Place First Week in July

MARION — (Associated Press) — The eyes of the country, focused on Marion two years ago, again will be turned to this Ohio town, which has sent the twenty-ninth president to the White House, July 2 to 6.

Marion will be 100 years old then, and it plans to entertain more distinguished citizens during the four-day centenary celebration, than in the rushing days of the Harding campaign, when many notables flocked here.

Of more importance to Marion people than the centenary itself, will be the return at that time of their's and the country's "first citizen," President Warren G. Harding, and Mrs. Florence Kling Harding. It will be the first time the Hardings have come back to their home town since they left a year and a half ago.

General John J. Pershing has promised to attend the celebration, as has Secretary of War Weeks; Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, personal physician to the president; Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes; Major General Reed; D. R. Crissinger, comptroller of the currency; George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to the president; Governor Harry L. Davis of Ohio; former Governor James E. Campbell of Ohio; Gen-al J. Warren Keifer, former speaker of the house of representatives, and the oldest living general of the civil war, and Judge W. Z. Davis. In addition, Mayor George W. Neely of Marion will send personal invitations to the mayors of 37 towns and cities in the country, inviting them to attend. Special invitations will be sent to every cabinet officer, both of Ohio's senators, all of her congressmen, state legislators, and officials, and the mayors of all Ohio cities and towns. News paper men and "great minds" who were here during the front porch campaign, will be asked to return. In the latter part of 1921 the Marion chamber of commerce named a committee of 26 to prepare for the centenary observance. The committee included Dr. George T. Harding, father of the president; G. Christian, Sr., father of Harding's secretary; Tracy, great grandson of the late Marion, and the neighbors of the president.

To Certain Parents

DEAR FRIENDS: I saw two small children playing on the B. & O. Railroad tracks, on the South Side. The oldest is not more than four years of age. There were no adults in sight other than myself. Further comment is unnecessary, save that it is little wonder so many children are killed or injured by trains.

To Lima Elks

DEAR ANTLERED FOLK: I'm taking the liberty of thanking you in advance for the flagpole and flags you're donating for my Faurot Park. And I desire to commend you and the members of other patriotic bodies for the plans that have been laid for special homage to be paid Old Glory, Sunday.

I trust that all my people will unite with you in the observance of the day and occasion.

To Ann Hauser Busch

DEAR ANN: That letter your husband wrote after enjoying all the good things on the wine list, made me thirsty. But Saint Wheeler has had the information in his card index for months. And Purley Baker probably knew it before it was printed. The only effect the letter will have may be to turn the voice of Senator Bartlett Willis loose, and what will happen to all the radio outfits?

Fighting for light wines and beers in this Congress is like asking a church deacon for a place to sleep. You simply won't get it. The cards are stacked, something like three to one against you. Congressmen are well satisfied. Of course your principles are fine and law's law on the water or on the land, but the A. S. L. has got the votes. And votes are what congressmen are interested in. Forget it and sail home on a whaler.

Th' fellow that waits for th' right girl to come along these days is goin' to get confused. Nothin's as 'gravin' as th' clerk that chats pleasantly while he's overchargin' beaches. Yet Gus Holstine still shy on my white socks. Crooned an old song, as out and abroad and to the post, where came greetings from Park & Tilford. Saying Frank Shank has been made their correspondent here.

To the office and in heavy travail covering against Sinclair's long deferred dividend. Out, and heard many and divers caustic comment against Andy Blank's premature revolution; even this family journal being berated for telling what happened. It is not a newspaper's business to suppress. Our subscribers pay us to tell 'em what happens. Whether it pleases them or nay.

Came a delegation with a plot to oust my old handmaster. Walter Toy, but would have nothing to do with it. Walter to start on the St. Johns road Monday; not to finish until he swings clear round to the Cairo boulevard.

With an ascetic feeling, over to Till's for a trim; and there found Pete O'Hara, the eminent railroad engineer and diplomat; taking everything from a shine to tonic. On him a roll like a First National Bank. Bowed in fine friendliness to Chief Lanker, who is in no danger, his gendarmes being loyal. General Byng wrong and all awry about blaming it on the bootleggers. That's Hillsboro bunk. Methinks the revolution only a flash in the pan and rather ribald for the nonce. To lunch with my wife, poor wretch, showing noble stamina against the missing of her summer playmate. So, out with an old pair of white kicks, which I gave twice away to have them overlooked and left by the donee. Brightened up they will be good until swimming time at Cedar Point. I attribute my success in life and ability in having accumulated almost $100 in marks to the fact that always do I hate to cast aside old wearables.

Dined on the bargain sale part of that roast beef of days ago. So out and stumped to find repairs started on Lakewood avenue. Congrats to him who succeeded Supt. Zartman. Received sacred asseveration from City Hall that Metcalf street bridge is soon to be paved and made passable. In the moon shine down the great North-st white way. And the Lutherans of Charlie Stolzenbach's worship house giving a lively lawn fete with trombone, trap drum n'rything.

On thru the theatre district until halted by Uncle George Vicary and Aunt Anna, who beseeched me to their cozy porch. And there sat me out buttermilk and English cookies. And Uncle George wanted to know how the world was going. And I told him it was on high, especially in the teens class of our cosmic population. So home, avoiding the lawn fete, and to bed.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

WEATHER—APPETITE

Warm weather usually brings with it a loss of appetite, especially in the case of the office man or other sedentary worker. Most of us overeat in summer, or else we cram our bodies with foods containing in themselves too much heat.

Foods contain varying amounts of heat units, or calories. Therefore, at this season, unless you select your food with some care you are liable to supply your old furnace with enough heat for midwinter instead of summer.

Too often we measure our food by the square inch—eat through our eyes, as the saying goes—according to the size of our stomachs, instead of regarding food units, which have no bearing on inches. A pat of butter has as many food units as five cupsful of shredded cabbage.

In hot weather avoid meat and heavy foods altogether. In their place substitute green vegetables, fruits and cold foods. Fish and fowl may be eaten when the meat craving is strong.

People who are more or less inactive during the day do well to cut out the noon meal altogether.

Here are rules to remember, no matter what the weather or the meal:

Do not eat too fast, but chew the food well.

Do not eat when excited or angry. Food should not be "washed down" with water, milk or coffee. They interfere with digestion. Drink after the food has been swallowed.

WOMAN CHOSEN AS INDIAN CHIEF

MUSKOGEE, Okla. — For the first time in the history of the Five Civilized Tribes, a woman is about to become an Indian chieftain—or chieftainess.

MRS. DAVIS

She is Mrs. Alice B. Davis of Wewoka, who has been chosen by the Seminoles as their leader. Mrs. Davis was born 70 years ago close by historic Park Hill, near Tahlequah, the ancient capital of the Cherokee nation. Her father was the late Dr. John F. Brown, a power in the early days of the Indian country. Altho she is the first woman, so far as history shows, ever to assume the post as head of any of the Five Civilized Tribes, the greater part of her life has been spent in welfare work among the Indians.

That's what each winter remarked for Tyrus Cobb. They said his strength was unequal to his job. They said his frame was from the strain of days gone by. No pep could we expect from Ty!

Poor broken, cast-off fossil! He hasn't got a thing except his speed colossal. Except his mighty wing. Except his undiminished Old batting arm and eye. Aside from these he's finished Ty!

"For love of a woman avenge a friend." This was in the soul of "Scaramo" man's man and a woman's Story starts in The Lima June 19.

A THOUGHT

Thou wilt show me the path of life; in Thy presence there is fullness of joy; at Thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore.—Psalm 16:11.

ONE step beyond life's work-day things. One more beat of the soul's broad wings.

One deep sorrow sometimes brings The spirit into that great Vast Where neither future is nor past; None knoweth how he entered there, But waking, finds his spirit where He thought an angel could not soar. And what he called false dreams before.

The very air about his door. —James Russell Lowell.

JAZZ KING MAKES $800,000 IN 5 YEARS

BY ROY GIBBONS
CHICAGO — (Special) — "Blow your own horn, and blow it hard!" This was the advice the town's richest citizen in Adrian, Mich., gave to Isham Jones 12 years ago.

Jones had gone to the moneybags asking the formula for a short cut to great wealth.

Today Jones owns a palatial home and a fleet of automobiles and has servants and all the trappings of wealth. And his bank account is swelling so fast that he can hardly keep track of it.

"Simple," says Jones. "I blow my own horn—I mean my saxophone."

To the world of music Jones is what Charlie Chaplin is to the film. His nickname is "King Oomph."

That's because he's probably the highest paid jazz orchestra leader in the country.

A loop hotel here pays him $3500 a week to play in its restaurant two hours an evening.

Phonograph companies are clamoring for his services to make jazz records for them.

During the last five years Jones and his saxophone have accumulated over $800,000 in salary and royalties from his compositions and phonograph records.

And the jazz king is only 28.

Members of his orchestra have grown prosperous with him.

Jones is a big strapping fellow and looks entirely unlike a musician.

But how he can play!

"I'm going to make a million and then quit," he says. "There's no use working all your life. A million will suit me fine."

Jones goes to work in his specially designed limousine. The driver wears a mouse-colored uniform to match the color scheme of the car.

A pocket has been built into the auto to hold Jones' saxophone.

Usually after each performance Jones takes in the town with his wife. Jones spends with the profitability of "Coal-Oil Johnny" of a half century ago, tipping with bills of large denomination. But there's method in his madness, for thus he keeps attuned to the spirit of jazz.

Frequently he uses his orchestra to raise charitable funds.

Folks say "King Jazz" has a heart as large as a piano.

THRONE COVETED BY ROYAL PAIR?

Russian Diplomats Suspect King
Alexander and Bride

HONEYMOONING IN SLOVENIA

Usurpation of Power at Moscow
Believed Intended

BELGRADE — (Special)—Diplomats suspect the honeymoon of King Alexander and Queen Marie of Yugoslavia is but the starting point of a new monarchical drive on Russia. Its object, according to this suspicion, is to place the young couple on the throne on which the Romanoffs sat until the revolution.

While the king and his bride, whose native country of Rumania has been in Yugoslavia and the rich Ukraine region of Russia, are honeymooning in Beed, Slovenia, the possibility of Alexander sitting on the Russian throne is discussed in whispers in court circles in several capitals.

If such a plot exists and succeeds, it will mean that Queen Marie of Rumania, most famous royal match-maker of Europe, has played the biggest card in her career.

It will mean that her daughter will rule as royal consort over the greatest empire under the sun.

KING MAKES DENIAL
Reports of this gossip evidently reached King Alexander's ears for he denied it thru implication in a public statement some time before his marriage.

"My task as king of Yugoslavia," he said, "will be to organize my country internally and cure it of the ravages of war. I and my people have nothing more than peace."

But, despite this denial, some undignified facts lend background to the gossip of intrigue. They are:

ONE: King Alexander is the most logical successor to the Russian throne, being today the most powerful reigning Slavic monarch. He spent much of his youth and gained much of his education in Russia.

TWO: Alexander has been harboring near Belgrade thousands of Russian monarchist troops, remnants of Baron Peter Wrangel's defeated anti-bolshevik army.

THREE: The only barrier between Alexander and Russia is Rumania, with which Alexander has concluded a compact thru his marriage with Princess Marie. And Rumania fears bolshevik Russia.

KING'S QUEER CONDUCT
Coupled with all this is King Alexander's strange conduct at Paris last summer.

In June, 1921, an attempt was made to assassinate Alexander, then a prince, in Belgrade. Wounded, he went to Paris to recover. His father, King Peter, died.

Since Prince George, Alexander's elder brother, had formally abandoned his claim to the throne, Alexander ander proclaimed himself king. But he stayed in Paris and could not be induced to return to Belgrade.

He was afraid of anarchists and other malcontents, it was said, since many attempts had been made on his life. On October 11 Alexander was reported as saying he never would mount the Yugoslav throne.

Premier Patchich of Yugoslavia journeyed to Paris. He held many conferences with the young king.

And early in November Alexander and Patchich left for Belgrade, where Alexander formally took oath as king. Shortly afterward his coming marriage to Princess Marie was announced.

"Alexander didn't want to mount the throne," say court gossips. "But Patchich dangled before his eyes the throne of Russia and one of Europe's most beautiful princesses. And to this temptation Alexander yielded."

COURT DENIES MOTION FOR TEMPORARY ALIMONY

Application for temporary alimony made before Judge Fred C. Becker, common pleas court by Mrs. Margaret Murphy, seeking a decree from Tim Murphy, was denied at a hearing held Friday.

Murphy is a nempoye of the Manhattan Hotel. His wife claims that he has failed to provide her with a home, the two living in furnished rooms only.

The couple was married in Detroit three years ago.

SUIT FOR $3,000 DAMAGES OPENS

Louis G. Miller Seeks Verdict
From Railroad for Accident

Trial to determine the liability of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. for injuries received by Louis G. Miller, 917 N. Main-st. meat market owner, in an accident at Pine-st crossing, commenced before Judge Fred C. Becker and a jury in common pleas court Friday morning.

Miller is demanding $3,000 balm for alleged injuries incurred and for impaired health. He also asks $250 for damage to a truck in which he was seated when it was struck by a west bound freight train.

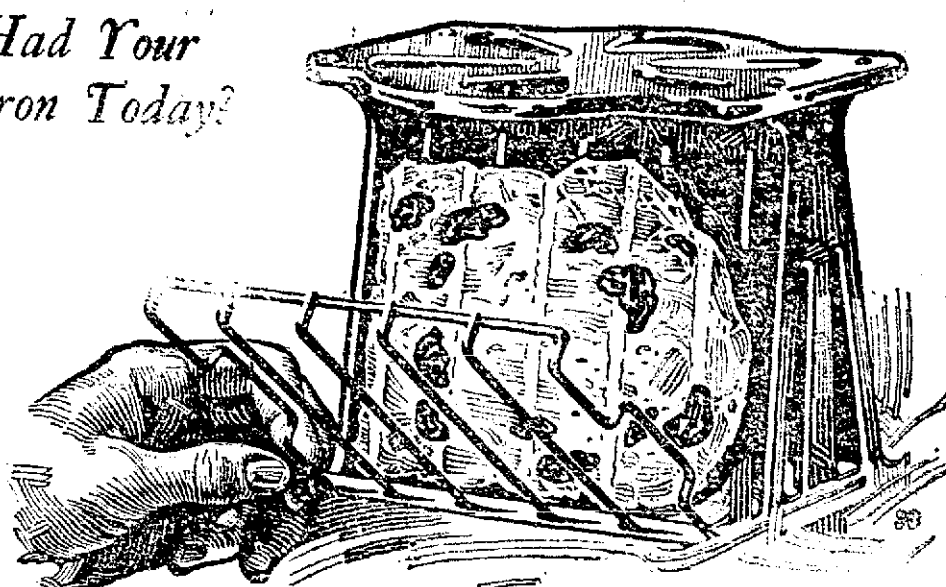

The accident, upon which the action is based, occurred, it is said, July 5, 1921. Miller was driving on Pine-st, early in the day. He claims that the railroad was negligent, in that crossing gates were not closed. Railroad counsel will contend that Miller was careless in approaching the tracks and that no gateman was on duty at the hour the accident occurred.

The following jury as secured to try the case: Clay Miller, W. W. Calvert, F. L. Hoat, William Rochn, C. A. Cochenparger, S. G. Parks, S. Shumaker, W. A. Roberts, E. M. Stoner, Mrs. Bert Shaw, W. C. Brownman, Mrs. O. I. Robbins. They were taken to the scene of the accident to familiarize themselves with the location.

BRIDE-ELECT COMPLIMENTED AT LUNCHEON

COMPLIMENTING Miss Catherine Greenslade, whose marriage to the Rev. Stephen E. Palmer, of Superior, Wis., will be a quiet event of Wednesday, June 25th, Mrs. Frederick T. Culbert, of W. Market-st., entertained a small coterie of guests very informally at 1 o'clock luncheon at the Shawnee Country club, Friday.

The table for the luncheon was attractively appointed, clusters of garden flowers being used in the adornment.

Dainty place cards bore the names of Miss Greenslade, the honor guest; Miss Catherine Weadock, Miss Margaret Gregg, Miss Helen Hunter, Miss Gladys Howard, Miss Elizabeth Moulton, Miss Florence Loar, of Pittsburg; Miss Jeanette Jones, of Columbus Grove; Mrs. Frank Eckles, Mrs. Bernard Blum, Mrs. J. M. Greenslade and Mrs. Culbert.

Tall palms, ferns, southern smilax and a profusion of flowers transformed the altar at Temple Beth Israel into a floral bower for the impressive nuptial services Thursday evening at 5:30 o'clock when Miss Clara Schachne Brunner, daughter of Mrs. Selma Brunner became the bride of Rabbi Harry Sterling Margolis, of Bridgeport, Conn., son of Mrs. M. Margolis, of Dayton. The temple was filled with a large assemblage of guests for the wedding, which was one of the most elaborate of the season.

An aisle was former for wedding party by streamers of white satin ribbon, drawn by the ushers—Morris Uric, of Milwaukee; Walter Rothman, of Detroit; Richard Schachne, of Chillicothe and Arthur Wohlgenuth.

Rabbi Julian Morgenstern, of Cincinnati, officiated. Immediately preceding the service, Miss Margery Evans, at the organ, played "At Dawning" and with the opening strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride party slowly wended its way to the altar.

The bride wore a lovely gown of Duchess satin, adorned with single strings of pearls. A panel, suspended from the shoulders and hanging in a long train was covered with the veil of tulle. The veil was fastened to the collar with a coronet of beads of pearls and the bride carried an arm bouquet of roses and valley lilies. She wore a diamond platinum pin, the gift of the bridegroom. Miss Constantine, in a white crepe Romaine, and Miss Helen Margolis, of Dayton, in peach colored canton crepe were the bridesmaids. Miss Jola Zecher, of Columbus, in white crepe Romaine was the maid of honor. All carried bouquets of old fashioned flowers with ribbon streamers. Julius Schachne, of Chillicothe officiated as groomsmen.

Immediately following the ceremony a dinner for the bride party and the immediate relatives was served at the Ulls' home. The table was handsomely appointed, a color scheme of lavender and pink predominating. Pink rosebuds and lavender sweet peas were prettily arranged and dainty corsages marked each cover.

A reception at 8:30 o'clock in the ball room followed. Almost 100 guests were received. Large baskets of pink roses tied with lavender tulle, together with palms and ferns were arranged in artistic effect.

It was Margolis and his bride left during the evening on an extended wedding trip. They will return to this city August 1 and will leave during the month of September for their future home in Bridgeport. Mrs. Margolis' going away outfit was of poiret tulle with a hat of blue taffeta to correspond.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Margolis, Mr. and Mrs. S. Margolis, Mrs. Max Margolis, Mrs. M. Margolis, Miss Adele Margolis, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Margolis, all of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. S. Harris, of Toledo; Harry L. Solomon, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. R. Schachne, Richard, Pete and Maurice Schachne, of Chillicothe; Raymond Shilling of Butte, Mont. Mrs. Flora Aht and Oscar Aht, of Canton and Mr. and Mrs. B. Horwitz, of Middletown.

Mrs. George Carter held high score in the playing at the weekly bridge at the Shawnee Country club Thursday while Mrs. E. M. Gooding was successful in the golf match. A tombstone golf match was played. Mrs. J. E. Sullivan and Mrs. F. T. Culbert were hostesses for the day. Hostesses for next week will be Mrs. A. H. Creps and Mrs. Henry Deisel, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coffman, of E. Market-st., entertained with an informal dinner party Thursday evening for the pleasure of Miss May Kilworth, of Columbus.

Miss Eunice Stone was pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening when a group of friends arranged an informal gathering in honor of her 35th birthday. The affair was held at the home of Miss Stone's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pfeiffer, of W. North-st. Music and dancing were enjoyed throughout the evening and a dainty three-course luncheon was served.

Miss Mildred Clark, of W. Spring-st., was hostess to the members of the Lenora Guild at her home last Tuesday evening. Games, music and contests, in which Mrs. John Morgan, Mrs. E. B. Stukey and Miss Veva North were successful, were the diversions. At a late hour the hostess, assisted by her sisters, served a delicious luncheon.

Mrs. Frank Bushey, of E. High-st., extended the hospitality of her home to the members of the Neighborhood club, Thursday. Red and white roses were prettily arranged throughout the rooms. Social chat and contests, in which Mrs. William Bedford and Mrs. O. P. Clevenger were successful, were the diversions. The only guests were Mrs. John Bushey and Miss Helen Clevenger.

Office girls of the Lima Telephone and Telegraph Company enjoyed their annual picnic at McBeth Park, Wednesday evening. A delicious picnic lunch was served at 6 o'clock and the evening was enjoyed in dancing.

Those enjoying the affair included: Misses Marie Franklin, Bernice Frey, Mary Reilly, Nina Clay, Harriet Melvaine, Marie Carrie, Maude Kerr, Geneva Crowdon, Mrs. Fred McClellin, Mrs. Bruce Soderstrom, Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. Benjamin Baumgardner and Mrs. Ray

HAIR DRESSING
In France women are dressing the hair to make the head look as small as possible. The locks are pulled straight back and coiled at the neck with the greatest simplicity. There is a tendency over there to keep the outline of the head small, but the hair is arranged softly about the face. This is much more flattering to the average woman.

TOM MOORE MR. BARNES OF NEW YORK

His Latest Production Will Start Tomorrow at the Lyric for 3 Days

"Mr. Barnes of New York," a Goldwyn picture, starring Tom Moore, will give the patrons of the Lyric Theatre, next week, something to talk about. The photoplay is the film version of the famous novel and its theme a Corsican vendetta in which an American with a sense of humor finds himself involved. The play of the same name and has a humor of the Yankee (Tom Moore) crops out in the midst of the most tragic situations; and where one expects a tragedy, one sees the situation turn into comedy. This picture has all the factors

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I AM engaged to a man about my own age. I love him deeply and I have always been happy with him as he has been good to me. Recently we met a very attractive girl. I have been told that she is deeply interested in my fiancé. I regret to say that I think she is winning him away from me and that for the last few weeks my fiancé has been paying an unusual amount of attention to her. What should I do? Should I agree to release my fiancé or should I hold him to his promise? He is beginning to act indifferent toward me.

PUZZLED
WOULD you sacrifice your own pride and humiliate yourself by continuing your engagement with a man who is becoming unfaithful toward you, simply for the sake of holding him to his promise? If you are certain that he does care for this girl and that his love for you is not as sincere and deep as you have been led to believe, I should advise you to offer him a release from his engagement.

It is possible that this is only imagination on your part and that your fiancé cares nothing for the other girl. Since someone informed you that she is interested in your fiancé, it is possible that you have watched with keen interest every movement on his part and unconsciously have mistaken acts of courtesy as interest in the girl. Do not be too hasty nor unreasonable. Wait awhile before making a decision and if you love your fiancé enough to justify your promise to wed him, you will trust him until you have positive proof that he is disloyal to you.

Dear Miss Smart: (1) Would you please tell me how to make rose beads? (2) Is a girl of 15 too old to have her hair bobbed to the middle of the ears? (3) Is there any place I can get work? (4) How is my writing?

To make rose beads, grind fresh rose petals from 20 to 25 times in a food chopper. Before the last three grindings, knead a little olive oil into the mass. To have the beads uniform size, measure the paste for each bead with a rather wide gold band ring. Shape the beads, string on a hat pin and let stand for several days. They will decrease to one-third the original size. When they dry take the beads from the hat pin and place in olive oil for an hour or two. (2) Very few girls look well with the hair cut too short. It is best to have the hair cover the ears entirely. (3) See Mrs. Julia Simpson, who is in charge of the employment bureau at the Y. W. C. A. (4) Fair.

ICED TEA

There is no more refreshing drink for a hot day than freshly brewed iced tea.

Plain "green" tea does not make good iced tea. A mixture of green and black teas makes a very acceptable drink and any good black tea can be used.

Iced tea must be brewed as carefully as hot tea. Too strong tea, allowed to cool and weakened with cold water, tastes no more like properly made iced tea than this same concoction reheated and served hot, would taste like freshly brewed tea.

ICED TEA
Four teaspoons tea, 4 cups boiling water, cracked ice. Put tea in tea ball. Pour boiling water in teapot to heat thoroughly. Pour out water and hang tea ball in pot. Pour over freshly boiling water. Let stand five minutes to steep.

Put glasses with cracked ice. Pour tea directly upon ice. Tea made this way is clear and fragrant as hot tea. When tea stands to cool the infusion becomes cloudy and loses its sweetness.

A sirup is economical to serve in place of sugar with iced tea. Sugar dissolves slowly in a cold liquid. Many delicious drinks are made with iced tea as a basis. Lemonade made with half water and half tea is more refreshing than plain lemonade.

Tea and grape juice, tea and ginger ale, tea and orange juice, tea and fruit juice combined with lemon juice—all these combinations are refreshing and economical.

Small crisp cookies or tiny plain bread and butter sandwiches are suitable to serve with a simple drink on a warm afternoon. (Copyright, 1922)

COPPER
Copper articles are very popular now in homes as well as studios. Teakettles, antique coffee pots and bowls of this metal make acceptable gifts.

GIRLS, TAKE THESE HINTS, AND GET A MILLIONAIRE HUBBY!

(BY MARIAN HALE)

To find the American beauty, the favorite flower of millionaires and movie directors, the knowing one does not go to a debutante tea, or yet to Newport or Southampton. Rather, he goes to the Pollies. Here are the girls who are going to gather in the rich eligibles.

So, to get a little advance information regarding our next crop of millionaires' wives, I attended some of the dress rehearsals of the new edition of the beauty show, and studied the blossoms at close range. I determined to do a little sly sleuthing and find out, if possible, just what type of beauty has the highest value at the present time. Find out I did!

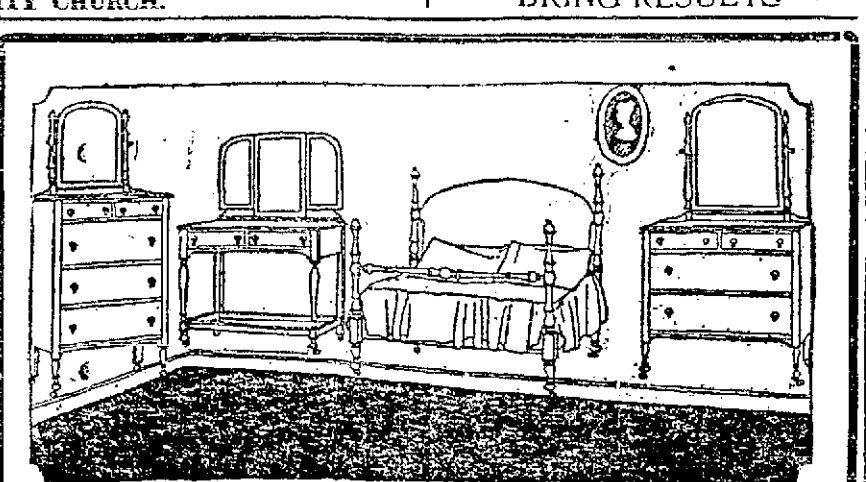

The most desired type of femininity is not the flapper, with her disregard for things feminine, or for the synthetic beauty, product of the finest artisans of our times, but the natural beauty, whose complexion doesn't wash off, whose hair is her own.

A year ago, Ziegfeld startled Broadway by banning the lip stick, rouge, and the beaded eyelash. His

OUR FIRST YEAR

BY A BRIDE

WE'RE PENNILESS—I RESOLVE TO GO TO W

My husband took from his pocket a notice that his checking account was once more overdrawn.

"We're bankrupt, all right," he repeated. "I'm sorry for you, little girl, but I guess we'd better get along with one checking account. So well close yours. I guess mine will hold all I can earn. And we can keep track of what we have—better—with just one account."

"I always have kept track," I protested. "See my stubs!"

It didn't take Jack long to discover I had a habit of going to the bank for cash and never subtracting the sums from my stubs!

Trying to be helpful, I suggested: "Can't we—just for once—pay these bills out of your savings?"

"But Peggie, our safety fund has been paid out for the furniture, Wedgwood, the lamps and odds and ends you needed."

Then I had another inspiration. "I can borrow, Jack! Of Mr. Tearle. He'd be just happy to help us!"

"Borrow? Borrow? Why, Peggie, you don't know what you're saying! Why, girl, unless we can live on what we earn, big or little money, I'd feel as if we were—as if I were cheating myself!"

After Jack had gone I sat down and had a good long cry. Jack had carried off the bills—they made a bundle too large for his pocket. He went straight to the bank to balance my checking account and close it.

My feelings were dreadfully hurt. Jack hadn't been pleased with one of my suggestions. I was sorry I had spoken about borrowing. I ought to have gone to Mr. Tearle, obtained a loan, paid the bills and saved Jack from worrying. And Mr. Tearle would never have expected to be paid, tho, of course, in time I'd have managed somehow.

I said to myself I had been quite stupid, had made a mess of our financial affairs from the beginning and that it was my duty as a business partner, equal with Jack, to go to work.

As a feminist, I believed in the economic independence of the wife. But it had been very pleasant to be supported, to be a parasite. In the shade of hair most prevalent this season is that medium brown that prevails elsewhere. There are some ethereal blonds and some stunning brunets, but the red-haired girl is scarce, the reason being that red hair, except the chemical variety, is scarce everywhere.

The girls wear their own figures—usually very lovely ones. They look practically the same off stage that they do on. They dress smartly, but not flashily. Most of them have the beauty which comes "but once"—the beauty of youth. Few are over 20.

So, girls, if you desire a little millionaire husband in your home, the 1922 formula seems to be: Be young, be beautiful, be shapely, and use your own complexions, hair, eyes, and, of course, your teeth.

And, if you can't answer all the requirements, and seem to be out of the running this year, don't be discouraged. Styles change, and you may have your lining in 1923—or later.

SURE-ENOUGH DUCHESS IN MINOR MOVIE ROLES

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
THE movie studio is a place where roseatead romance blooms in every corner—to the uninitiated. It is only a prosaic workshop to those who labor there, a place of eye-buffing lights and muggy atmosphere.
Thus the news about Stella de Lanti has the Paramount studio all astir. Stella has been playing in small parts for a year. She was given a character role in "Burning Sands." The road to fame and recognition is still to be traveled.
Yet Stella is a noblewoman, the Duchess de Lanti, member of one of Italy's proudest families.
She "played hooky" from an art school in London to appear as an extra in a picture made by Pathe Freres. She decided then and there she would some day be a movie actress.

Stella de Lanti. That's her name in movie studios. She is entitled to be called "Duchess de Lanti."

"The Rough Diamond" Is T. Mix's Latest

SURE enough, Tom Mix's new picture "The Rough Diamond" is something different. For a long time now, Tom has threatened to give the western stuff a rest and do something in a different key. "The Rough Diamond" is it.
This time he has a regular George Barr McCutcheon story, with the locale in one of those funny-named countries (this one is Bulgonia, I think). The action, however, doesn't start over there, for in the beginning Tom is a ranch worker who however, gets canned because he is caught embezzling the ranch live stock by the rare jazz he manufactures on some time nobody ever saw before. His only other possession, a mule, is canned with him. The two land in a circus.
By this time, the girl has been met and loved. Her father, the president of Bulgonia, is many troubles, and conspirators surround him at every turn. But with Mr. Mix on the job—well, he and his black horse, only supported by the trustworthiness of his mule, put the enemy to rout, becomes generalissimo of the army, marries the girl, and so on. Eva Novak plays the informed, is the other participant in the final clutch.
The film is well done from all points of view. It is one of those stories which leads you from start to finish, as it should.
"Please don't tell me seriously, for then you won't like me. But if you feel like playing, we'll have a nice time together."
And you will.
"The Rough Diamond" is playing this week-end at the Santa theatre.

"The Light in the Clearing"—Lyric

HOPKINSON'S production "The Light in the Clearing" isn't the most cheerful thing in the world. On the contrary it is one of the sordid happenings, rous other life irreducibles.
The central figure in the story is a woman who has been wronged by the village miser, a terrible-looking aspect with the required amount of villainous whiskers. Her father, who hath a heart of stone, turns her out, her behavior the witch, goes to the task of getting every dollar in the vicinity under his control. Forthwith, the lady goes crazy.
There is a son, who grows up without knowing a mother. He is whiskered one also has a son, who grows up hating his father with all the strength of his young manhood. He has never known the fatherly love that is his due, and as a result he goes from bad to worse.
Well, after a lot of drab and gruesome happenings, including a murder, the plot grows quite exciting and action becomes almost hysterical. The wrong, of course, is righted, the poor lady finds peace and everybody young in the picture gets married.
Great care was taken by the producers to make each characterization as realistic as possible, with the result that the mad lady makes you shudder, and the villain is unforgettable. He reminds one of a rat. Subplots are a gassy affair and occur too often.
Be that as it may "The Light in the Clearing" has plenty of plot, lots of action in spots, and the cast for the most part does good work.
At the Lyric again today and Saturday.

Paint, Like Men, May Have Character
Character in paint is made up of the ingredients that go into it—into the process of manufacture—is embodied in the careful analysis and inspection before it is made, while it is being made—after it is manufactured.
Hoosier Machine-Made House Paint has strength of character. It is dependable all the while—lasts longer—preserves the materials to which it is applied—increases the appearance of every building on which it goes.
Its materials are those that the Master Painters' Association says are best—non-poisonous Sublimed White Lead and Zinc Oxide!
It covers 40 per cent more surface—its colors do not fade—and Hoosier Paint always wears evenly.

Granulated cork is used to insulate the walls and the door of a White Frost. This is why White Frost Refrigerators give maximum cold with low ice consumption.
